

Workshop on Web 2.0 and Natural Language Engineering tasks

at the 4th Indian International Conference on Artificial Intelligence (IICAI-09)
December 16-18, 2009, Tumkur (Bangalore), India

<http://www.iiconference.org/iicai09/web2nle.html>

In recent years, we have witnessed the emergence of a new platform of collaborative communication on the World Wide Web: the Web 2.0. In the Web 2.0 paradigm, users are not purely receptors of information, but also generate new content through the use of new communication and authoring tools such as forums, blogs, wikis, etc. A large body of digital information has become available in multiple languages making up what is the largest communication and collaborative platform in history. Different levels of formality and subjectivity of the language are used in this scenario which allows addressing topics such as:

- Clustering the blogosphere
- Blog summarization
- Subjectivity in texts
- Sentiment analysis
- Automatic humour recognition
- Folksonomies and social tagging
- Clustering and visualization of tag clouds
- Plagiarism detection of ideas
- Opinion analysis
- Sources of opinions and authorship attribution
- Product analysis and text-based market analysis
- Enterprise 2.0 search

Paper Submission and Publication:

Authors are encouraged to submit the papers for this workshop at <https://www.easychair.org/login.cgi?conf=web2nle>

The papers should be in PDF format and should be formatted according to the Springer Lecture Notes instructions. The length of a paper should not exceed 20 pages. Shorter papers or papers on the work currently in progress are also welcome. The first page of the paper should contain the name(s) of the authors, affiliations, the postal and email addresses. The second page just the title of the paper and at least 3 keywords appropriate to its content.

Each paper will be peer reviewed by at least two experts in the topical area. All accepted papers will be published in the conference proceedings, under the title of the workshop.

Deadlines:

- May 10 2009: Paper manuscripts due.
- June 6 2009: Notification of acceptance.
- July 6 2009: Camera ready papers and Pre-registration due.
- December 16-18, 2009: Workshop @ the IICAI-09 Conference.

Session Chairs:

Paolo Rosso, Universidad Politecnica Valencia, Spain
email: proso@dsic.upv.es
URL: <http://www.dsic.upv.es/~proso/>

Varma Vasudeva, IIT Hyderabad, India
email: vv@iiit.ac.in
URL: <http://www.iiit.ac.in/~vasu/>

David Pinto, Benemerita Univesidad Autonoma Puebla, Mexico
email: dpinto@cs.buap.mx
URL: <http://www.cs.buap.mx/~dpinto/>